Irvin D. Reid and Sheila Cockrel invite you to join them for dinner and a community discussion. This is not your usual meeting! This time, you and your neighbors are the mayor and council, making decisions about the crises facing our city and answering questions about how to fix Detroit.

5:30 – 8:30 p.m.
Thursday, May 10, 2012
at the International Institute of Metro Detroit
111 East Kirby, Detroit, MI 48202
(Corner of Kirby and John R.)

Limited free parking available.

Admission is free. Seating is limited, and reservations are required. RSVP by May 8, 2012 to focis.wayne.edu or 313-577-0300.

This program is presented by the Eugene Applebaum Chair in Community Engagement and the Forum on Contemporary Issues in Society (FOCIS) at Wayne State University. The Eugene Applebaum Chair and FOCIS are made possible through the generosity of alumnus Eugene Applebaum, founding chair of the Wayne State University Foundation.
